

GENTe Multiplier Event in Athens, 5 October 2023

On 5th of October the Greek Multiplier event took place in Athens, Greece by HIGGS.

The Multiplier Event tried to inform youth workers and related stakeholder and organizations regarding the European project GENTe and the material that were created through the project lifetime.

In anticipation of our Multiplier event, we proactively disseminated information to various stakeholders, including young individuals, youth workers, and civil society organizations with a specific focus on the youth sector.

During the Multiplier Event, participants had the chance to:

- Navigate to the GENTe Platform
- Be informed for all the Modules and the Thematic areas of the Project
- Learn about the next steps and the products that will produced during the project lifetime

The multiplier event tried to reach as many people and organizations as possible, based on the target groups of the European project GENTe.

Overall, the multiplier event received favorable feedback, and the project caught the interest of participants, who described it as highly unique and valuable to youth workers and organizations of the civil society sector. All of the guests showed excitement for the GENTe project and are looking forward to the project's future findings.
